

Insurance Policy Wording for

EVENT ORGANISERS AND THEIR PARTICIPATING EXHIBITORS

The Insured having made to the Insurers a proposal which has been relied upon to determine the terms and Conditions and having paid or agreed to pay the Premium the Insurers will, subject to the Conditions, Exclusions, terms and limitations contained herein and endorsed hereon, indemnify the Insured and/or a Participating Exhibitor as a beneficiary under the terms of this insurance in respect of losses occurring during the Period of Insurance.

This Wording and its Endorsement(s), Certificate(s) and Schedule(s) should be read together as one document and any word or expression to which specific meaning has been given in any part of this Wording shall bear the same meaning wherever it may appear.

Please read the full Wording to ensure that it has been prepared correctly to meet with the insured's requirements.

Introduction

Words written in bold are defined terms in the policy, so please refer to the Definitions section to see the meaning of these terms.

How the exhibitor policy works for exhibitors paying the participation fee -

In return for the premium the Insured has agreed to pay, the Insurers will provide the cover shown in the Exhibitions Organisers policy Schedule during the Period of Insurance and provided in the Evidence of Insurance document on file with Insurers. The Insured remains the policyholder but are allowing the Participating Exhibitors to be a beneficiary under their policy. The Participating Exhibitor will have no rights under the Policy and may not enforce any term of it. Once the participation fee is paid to the Insured the Exhibitor Expenses cover commences. The Exhibitor Property section cover begins once the Participating Exhibitor's property items are enroute to the Venue and ends once the items are back at the Participating Exhibitor's business premises/storage location. The Exhibitor's Liability section commences during build up and expires at break down of the exhibition.

Parties to this agreement

This policy is between the Insured, and the Insurers. This document, together with its Schedule and any attaching endorsements is the policy which sets out this insurance. It is a legal contract so please read all of it carefully.

Your Policy

Each insured section sets out the scope of the main cover and the circumstances in which the Insurers liability is limited or may be excluded. Further, each section sets out other terms and conditions relevant to that section.

Additional clauses set out terms, conditions, exclusions or limitations that may apply to more than one insured section.

The following general terms apply to all sections, clauses and endorsements:

- What is not covered;
- General conditions;
- Complaints Procedure; and
- Claims procedure.

Policy period and premium

The Insurers will provide insurance as described in this policy and Schedule for the Period of Insurance as long as the Insured pays the premium(s) to the Insurers or the intermediary and the Insurers or the intermediary accept the premium(s) and other charges within the terms of the Insured's invoice. Taxes and other charges apply to this policy in addition to the premium.

If any premium (including a premium instalment) is not paid to and accepted by the Insurers or the intermediary within the terms of the Insured's invoice, the Insurers may cancel the policy and the Insured will have no insurance protection.

Complaints Procedure:

At InEvexco Ltd we are proud of our reputation for high quality and excellent service. If, on any occasion our service falls below the standard the insured expect, the insured should contact:

Information You must tell the Insurers

In deciding to accept this insurance and in setting the terms and premium, the Insurers have relied on the information the insured have given them. The insured must take reasonable care to provide complete and accurate answers to the questions the Insurers ask when the insured take out and make changes to their policy.

Careless misrepresentation in the context of a claim

If, on presentation of a claim, the Insurers obtain evidence which suggests that the insured failed to take care to verify the information the insured have provided and the Insurers have relied upon in accepting this insurance and setting the terms and premium of this insurance the Insurers may:

- Treat this insurance as if it never existed and refuse to pay all claims and return the premiums paid, if the insured carelessness causes the Insurers to provide the insured with insurance cover which the Insurers would not otherwise have offered;
- Treat the insured's insurance as if it had been entered into on different terms from those agreed (specifically to reflect the relevant misrepresentation); or

Careless misrepresentation generally

If the Insurers obtain evidence unrelated to any outstanding claim which suggests that the insured failed to take care to verify the information provided to them and the Insurers have relied upon in accepting this insurance and setting the terms and premium of this insurance the Insurers may:

- Give the insured notice in writing that the insured must pay more for their insurance or reduce the amount the Insurers pay on a claim in the proportion of the premium they actually charged with the premium they would have charged the insured had the insured not acted carelessly;
- Give the insured notice in writing that the terms of their insurance have changed; or
- Cancel this contract of insurance by giving the insured thirty days' notice in writing and return any premium paid for the balance of the contract term.

If Insurers give the insured notice that the terms of the insured's insurance have changed or that they must pay more for their insurance then the insured may give them thirty days' notice in writing that they wish to terminate the contract.

Any return premium due to the insured will depend on how long this contract of insurance has been in force and whether the insured have made a claim.

If Insurers establish that the insured deliberately or recklessly provided them with false information the Insurers may:

- treat this insurance as if it never existed;
- decline all claims; and
- retain the premium .

Change in circumstance

The insured must tell the Insurers as soon as possible about any changes in the information the insured have provided to them which happens before or during any Period of Insurance. The Insurers will tell the insured if such change affects their insurance and if so, whether the change will result in revised terms and/or premium being applied to their policy. If the insured do not inform the Insurers about a change it may affect any claim the insured make or could result in their insurance being invalid.

Your personal information notice

Who the Insurers are

The Insurers are the insurers identified in the contract of insurance and/or in the certificate of insurance.

The basics

The Insurers collect and use relevant information about the insured to provide the insured with their insurance cover or the insurance cover that benefits the insured and to meet their legal obligations.

This information includes details such as the insureds name, address and contact details and any other information that the Insurers collect about the insured in connection with the insurance cover from which they benefit. This information may include more sensitive details such as information about the insured's health and any criminal convictions they may have.

In certain circumstances, the Insurers may need the insured's consent to process certain categories of information about them (including sensitive details such as information about their health and any criminal convictions they may have). Where the Insurers need the insured's consent, they will ask the insured for it separately. The insured does not have to give the insured's consent and the insured may withdraw their consent at any time. However, if the insured do not give their consent, or they withdraw their consent, this may affect the insurers ability to provide the insurance cover from which the insured benefit and may prevent the Insurers from providing cover for the insured or handling their claims.

The way insurance works means that the insured's information may be shared with, and used by, a number of third parties in the insurance sector for example, insurers, agents or brokers, reinsurers, loss adjusters, sub-contractors, regulators, law enforcement agencies, fraud and crime prevention and detection agencies and compulsory insurance databases. The Insurers will only disclose the insured's personal information in connection with the insurance cover that they provide and to the extent required or permitted by law.

Other people's details you provide to us

Where the insured provide the Insurers or the insured's agent or broker with details about other people, the insured must provide this notice to them.

Want more details?

For more information about how the Insurers use the insured's personal information please see the insurer's full privacy notice(s), which is/are available online on their website(s) or in other formats on request.

Contacting us and your rights

The insured have rights in relation to the information the Insurers hold about them, including the right to access their information. If the insured wish to exercise their rights, discuss how the Insurers use their information or request a copy of the insurers full privacy notice(s), please contact the insurer on DPO@beazley.com or the agent or broker that arranged this insurance.
